FRIDAY, DECEMBER 14

Richmond, BC – Few artists have achieved the level of public success and critical acclaim that Burton Cummings has enjoyed in a remarkable career spanning more than forty years. Whether as lead singer and songwriter with The Guess Who or on his own, Cummings has amassed more hit records than just about any other Canadian performer in history. His numerous hits include “Stand Tall”, “I’m Scared”, “Timeless Love”, “Break It To Them Gently” and “I Will Play A Rhapsody”. He has received several Juno Awards including “Most Promising Male Singer” in 1977 and “Best Male Singer” that same year as well as in 1980. Cummings has also ventured into acting having starred in the 1982 feature film, Melanie which co-starred Don Johnson, Glynnis O’Connor and Paul Sorvino.

Although Cummings now resides in Sherman Oaks, California, he still retains ties in Winnipeg where a theatre and a community centre have been named after him and he has been invested in the Order of Manitoba. He was also inducted into the Canadian Songwriters Hall of Fame in 2005. His most recent album, Above The Ground was released in 2008 and was recorded with the help of his touring band, The Carpet Frogs. In 2009, he was named an officer of the Order of Canada by Governor General Michaëlle Jean. Don’t miss Burton Cummings when he’ll be performing for one night only at Boulevard Casino’s Red Robinson Show Theatre on December 14, 2012.
