Richmond, BC – K-Ci & JoJo are true Kings of R&B. The brothers grew up singing in church choirs and originally toured with their father’s gospel group. After meeting the DeGrate Brothers – DeVante Swing & Mr. Dalvin – they formed Jodeci, one of the most successful R&B acts of the early 90’s. In 1996, K-Ci & JoJo broke away from the group to record “How Could You” for the soundtrack of the Damon Wayans/Adam Sandler film, Bulletproof. They went on to record their first album together. Love Always was released in 1997 and featured the hit singles “You Bring Me Up”, “Last Night’s Letter” and “All My Life” which reached #1 on both the R&B and pop charts. Their second album, It’s Real was released in 1999 and reached #2 on the R&B and pop charts and featured the hit single “Tell Me It’s Real”. Their third album, X was released the following year and featured the hit single “Crazy”. All three albums achieved Platinum status.

Singer/songwriter Aaron Hall is best known as the member of the R&B trio, Guy along with New Jack Swing founder Teddy Riley and songwriter Timmy Gatling who was later replaced by Hall’s brother, Damion. As a member of Guy, Hall rose to fame as lead singer on such hits as “Groove Me”, “I Like”, “Piece of My Love”, “Let’s Chill” and “Do Me Right” before the trio disbanded in 1991. As a solo artist, his hits include the #1 R&B single, “Don’t Be Afraid” and the #2 R&B single, “I Miss You”. In 1999, Hall reunited with his brother and Riley on their reunion album, Guy III which featured the hit single, “Dancin’”. His most recent album, Adults Only: The Final Album was released in 2005. Don’t miss K-Ci & JoJo and Aaron Hall along with special guest hip hop legend Doug E. Fresh when they’ll be performing all their hits in the ultimate concert event at the River Rock Casino Resort on March 9, 2013.
